LITTLE LEAGUE TOURNAMENT TEAM CHOSEN

The Little Leaguers who will face the players of the other Little Leagues in a series leading to the Little League World Championship, this fall, in Williamsport, Pennsylvania, have been named.

Five of last years players will again be on the team this year, a team made up of the best players of all four Wilmington Little League teams.

Hard hitting Tommy Grant, Mike Farrell, the snappy catcher, Jeff Williamson, pitcher David Fuller, pitcher and hard hitter, and Johnny Robbins, one of the finest defensive players in Wilmington, short-stop for the Tigers, will be on the Tournament Team for the second year.

To Play Stoneham

The first game that the Wilmington Team will play will be against Stoneham's American League, one week from today. As of the moment it is not known whether the game will be in Wilmington or Stoneham, it will all depend on which town has the best field, but if Wilmington should win the first game the succeeding three games will all be in Wilmington.

Ritchie & Waugh

Johnny Ritchie and John Waugh Little League Coaches will again lead the Wilmington Tournament team. Ritchie and Waugh last year brought the Wilmington team very close to the regional championship, and may be expected to better this time.

Team

On the team, in addition to those who played last year, named above, are Jimmy Newhouse of the Indians, Pete Emery and Eddie Sullivan, of the same tribe, Billy Cotter Jimmy Gillis, and Mike Anderson of the Yanks, Steve Brown of the Red Sox, and Corydon Coombs of the Tigers.

EUGENE C HUSSEY, JR. and FRITZ H WALKLING ELECTED VICE PRESIDENTS OF MIDDLESEX COUNTY NATIONAL BANK

The election of two vice presidents and other officer promotions were announced July 9 by Oliver T Bergstrom, president of the Middlesex County National Bank, following the monthly meeting of the Board of Directors. Elected vice presidents were Eugene C Hussey, Jr. of Winchester and Fritz H Walkling of Medford.

Mr Hussey, who has been an assistant vice president of the bank, has been in charge of its Reading Office since 1947. He is a native of Hyde Park and a graduate of Hyde Park High School and Dean Academy, starting his banking career with the First National Bank of Boston in 1921. He came to the Middlesex County National Bank in 1936 as an assistant cashier, and was elected assistant vice president in 1937. He is treasurer of the Reading Chamber of Commerce and treasurer of the U S Bond Committee for Reading. He is married and lives at 18 An-

THE REPUBLICAN'S CHOICE

Arthur J. West II, Republican candidate for nomination and election to the State Legislature is congratulated by Mrs. Ruth Kitchener, of the Wilmington Town Republican Committee, at a social hour in the White Spot in Woburn, Tuesday evening. Others in the picture are Vincent. Celeste, candidate for U.S. Senator, Charles Gibbons, candidate for State Senator in Seventh Middlesex District; Christian A. Herter Jr., candidate for Attorney General of Massachusetts; Elmer Nelson, candidate for Lieutenant Governor of Massachusetts; and John Savko, of the Wilmington Town Republican Committee.

ST THOMAS CONTINUES DRIVE TOWARDS LAWRENCE CVO TITLE

Battling the elements as well as their opponents, St Thomas had a tie, a defeat and two rainouts to show for last weeks activities. The locals had a 4-2 lead against St Monica of Methuen when a downpour curtailed the contest after three and a half innings last Tuesday.

Thursday against Holy Rosary at Lawrence, Fred McAndrews gave up only four hits in his first pitching start as St Thomas battled to a 2-2 tie. Joe Bevilacqua had four hits.

After a Friday postponement, St Thomas went out of their age bracket in playing the Bedford Town Team at the High School Field on Sunday. The Tennihan-coached club was soundly beaten by the older and polished visitors. It is felt that the added experience gained from the contest will stand the team to advantage as they complete the last three contests in the Lawrence CVO league.

The next home game is Sunday at the High School field against St Raphael of Medford.

St Thomas roster: Catchers: E Moegelin, McElvey; pitchers: Froton, Peters; Infielders: Boudreau, D Moegelin, Bevilacqua, Maloney, MacDonald, Palino, Babine, W Fuller, R Zwicker; Outfielders: Kavanaugh, Gage, McAndrews, Ahern, Dromgoole, Dolan.

CAKE SALE AT STEVENS SUPERMARKET THIS SATURDAY

The Little League Mothers will hold a cake sale Saturday morning, July 19, from 10-12 at Stevens Supermarket on Main St at Silver Lake.

QUIET SELECTMEN'S MEETING

The Selectmen's meeting on Monday evening was one of mid-summer quiet - with the only controversial subject, the Hathaway gravel pit being discussed in the privacy of an executive meeting.

Mrs. Virginia McFarland and Lenore Black were granted a license to sell sandwiches and similar products in their Submarine Sandwich Shop, on Main Street at Silver Lake, on Sundays. They had been turned down one week previously, but explained that they were in reality victualers, in a visit to the Board, Monday.

Several out of town victualers, applying for licenses to sell from mobile vehicles had their applications tabled. Remarks were made during the discussion of these applicants which indicated that at least one of them had been selling in Wilmington for the past year without proper license.

Town manager Fred Calabrese presented preliminary ideas on how the North Wilmington parking lot will appear when finished. Parking in the area will be restricted to the lot, when all is completed.

A letter from a person who had a claim on land in Wilmington, lost because of non-payment of taxes was received, draws Rd, Winchester. The Husseys have one son, Richard, who graduated from Winchester High School in 1951.

Mr Walkling, who has been an assistant vice president in charge of the three Medford offices of the bank, is a graduate of Medford High School and of Harvard College, Class of 1931. He was cashier of the First National Bank in Med-

MAXIM MOTOR COMPANY APPARANT LOW BIDDER ON FIRE LADDER TRUCK

The Maxim Motor Company of Middleboro is the apparant low bidder, for construction of the new Ladder Truck, ordered by the Town in Town Meeting last Spring.

Maxim's net bid, minus a 2% discount, was $34,976.20, and this included power steering, which was an extra in the bids of other firms.

The bids were opened in the Town Hall last Thursday evening. Other bids were submitted by the American LaFayette Company $39,933 net, The Mack Truck Company, $38,915 less 2% and the Seagrave Company, $35,590, less 2%.

INJUNCTION AGAINST HATHAWAY GRAVEL PIT DISSOLVED

The injunction prohibiting Stephen P. Hathaway, operator of the former Van Steensburg gravel pit from removing gravel has been dissolved by the Middlesex Superior Court, in a decree handed down on July 7th.

Building Inspector Minot J. Anderson had had the injunction issued on June 2nd., after he had found that the operations of the new pit (not licensed) were extending towards Salem Street. Anderson's injunction was issued because no permit had been issued by the Board of Selectmen.

Hathaway had removed about 15,000 yards of sand and gravel, just prior to the injunction.

The lifting of the injunction by Judge Fairhurst was based on the fact that the Van Steensburg pit was in operation before the adoption of the 1955 Zoning Laws. The court held that the gravel operation in question was a non-conforming use.

Testimony by Ernest Eames, in the trial before the Master established the fact that the pit was in operation in 1903.

At the same time the Court held the path open to Wilmington to present further evidence, if they wished to continue the case.

It is believed that no further efforts will be made.

North Reading Selectmen were also understood to be seeking an injunction to stop operations in their town, in the same pit, which extends into North Reading. The North Reading Selectmen, apprised of the outcome of the Wilmington injunction are reported to still feel that they should go ahead with their own case, and seek an injunction against operations in North Reading.

The North Reading Town Counsel is reported to have said that, the Wilmington case was a sufficient precedent to cause North Reading to drop its efforts.

Executive Session

The Board of Selectmen, Monday night, held an executive session to consider the implications of the court decision.

The new site for the Regan Monument

The Regan Monument, which formerly stood at the intersection of Middlesex Avenue and High Street has been moved to a new locale, Middlesex Avenue and Salem St. to make room for the new highway. Behind the monument is to be seen the Brooks home, (1720), formerly the home of the late Caleb Harriman.

She has been assigned to teach the first grade next year at the Heath View Infant's School, Wakefield, Yorkshire, England.

Miss Darling will join other American teachers in New York City on August 8th to board the S S United States and will arrive in Southampton on August 13th. There, they will be met by representatives and officials of many organizations. During their two day stay in London the American teachers will be received at a reception given by Lady Astor.

Teachers who apply for the exchange grant do so through the U S Office of Education which in turn makes recommendations to the Board of Foreign Scholarships of the Fulbright Act.

THE HOSPITAL

For several weeks our newly formed Wilmington Taxpayers Association has been sponsoring a fund which is designed towards the eventual establishment of a hospital in this area.

This paper carried no news of the event, for a good reason. Without going into details we can say that we were waiting to see what happened. We do not seek to damn a worthy effort by faint praise. We do not seek to condemn a good ideal. But we are not prepared to immediately confirm a nebulous proposition.

Now the Taxpayers Association has a Board of Trustees for the Hospital Fund. Philip Buzzell, Town Counsel of Wilmington, and one of the most highly respected legal lights in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts has agreed to serve as chairman of the Board of Trustees.

According to the proposed charter (not yet, as of this writing, adopted) the Board of Trustees will have to approve of all expenditures.
If not enough money is raised for the purpose, then the Trustees can vote to put it into a trust fund, for an eventual hospital, or to distribute the money for a local charity.

This is a safeguard of the type we have been waiting for. We do not know whether or not the Taxpayers Association will achieve their purpose, but we must acknowledge that it is noble in purpose, and that adequate safeguards are being set up to protect the money.

We wish them good luck.

THE POLICE STATION SITE

Our Permanent Building Committee is scheduled, one of these days to get around to considering a new Police Station, voted by the town in Town Meeting.

The Town Meeting vote specified a site which is nearly but not quite across from the present Police-Fire station.

We have heard objections to this site in that it is swampy, and that there would be a difficulty in finding a good place for the foundation. We do not think that such is the case, we believe that a good bearing ground can be found very close to the present surface.

But we do believe that further consideration should be given to the site in view of the developing plans for Urban Renewal in Wilmington.
A police station erected in accordance with the town vote could very well block off a very fine route for access to our Urban Renewal area, and the possibilities of such must be considered before any action is taken.

SUSIE'S

SONNETS

TO AN AIR MOUSE

(With apologies to Robert Burns)

Who'd ever think a mouse was prone

To travel in a missile cone

Through reaches of the outer space

And land in some forsaken place

Away from kin, away from kith

And all the friends he once played with?

For epitaph, let this suffice:

'The best laid plans of man need mice.'

THE RESTUARANT

Last week's issue of the Town Crier reported that the proposed restaurant on Lowell Street is intended to be one of the Howard Johnson chain.

This was so reported after the Planning Board meeting of last week, in which one of the gentlemen concerned made, or seemed to make such a statement. The Town Crier checked its own report with the opinion of several members of the Planning Board, and all were in agreement that such a statement was made.

However, we are told by an attorney for the firm that the intention of the statement was to the effect that it was to be "like a Howard Johnson restaurant".

So, let the correction be entered on the lists.

THE OLD COLONY PLAN

The Old Colony Railroad, serving Boston from the south is in serious trouble, and some of our most respected legislative leaders have come up with a plan to subsidize the railroad with $900,000 a year.

If ever a legislative plan was ill-conceived this is it. It should be defeated, unanimously, by our Legislature.

For some years now we have had the picture of a subsidized transportation system (the MDC) drawing upon the exchequers of the various towns and cities it serves. Some of the towns and cities served by the MDC have objected, but they have to pay.

That subsidized transportation, plus the advent of the modern motor car has served to hurt the Old Colony railroad, and the Boston and Maine too. The only people to make money out of the situation were the car salesmen, and the oil companies.

Now the legislative leaders are proposing that we continue the situation by subsidizing not only the MDC but the railroad too.

It is perfectly true that our railroads are in a bad position, and that most of their troubles stem from causes over which they have no control. This paper has been in favor of having remedial measures taken, in Congress, so that our railroads can continue to operate.

But a direct subsidy, to the Old Colony is not the answer, and cannot by any hook or crook be so called. It is a plan that our Legislature

TOWN NOTES

From the Boys

Joe Cotton, who was buried Tuesday was one of the luckiest men ever to visit a race track.

After he retired from the Real estate business, back in the 1930 era Joe devoted quite a bit of time to handicapping the horses, and after the advent of the Rockingham Race Track, in New Hampshire, he was often to be seen there, in company with some of the boys down in Wilmington Square.

The boys didn't forget Joe.
Alongside his casket, along with the other floral tributes was one of the type that is hung over a horses' neck wher he has won a race. Perhaps many of Joe's friends didn't realize just what the significance was, but there was no mistaking from whom it came.

The banner said simply 'The Boys from the Square'

Fishing

Not in Wilmington. Today's fish are being caught out of town.

Golden Toe McFeeters caught a few nice pike, out in the western part of the state this week, and Charles Black came back from New Hampshire with a beautiful four pound small-mouth bass.

But most of the fishing is salt water stuff - the macker-al running.

We haven't had a chance to try Mill Pond recently, but we are told that some nice sized pickerel are running down that a way.

Ten Years Ago

We have been trying to recall the exact date, without looking it up, and we cannot, but it was ten years ago this summer that Wilmington was treated to one of the most peculiar series of events ever to happen to a Fire Department, etc.

Actually it was a simple thing, but it became a big event before it was over.

It was in the building on Main Street where the new Submarine Sandwich Shop has been located - 108 Main St.

At that time there was a liquor store in the building. One Saturday, after the store had closed for the evening three or four of the boys settled down for a poker party, in the cellar.

Just about midnight someone tossed a match that was still glowing into a drain, which ran from a corner of the floor towards Lubber's Brook.

There was a loud explosive bang, and the boys jumped as though they had been shot. They called the Fire Department, pronto, and the brave fire laddies responded, ready to do or die.

But when the Fire Department arrived there wasn't even a smoke mark to show that there had been an explosion. No one doubted that the explosion had occurred, but how could you prove it?

Town Notes
(fr Pg 2)

To double the mystery, it was recalled that a similar explosion had taken place only a few months previously near the present Silver Lake Drug Store. The State Fire Marshall was called to solve the mystery.

An old timer, who had lived in the neighborhood for over 50 years knew the answer, and he told the Fire Marshall, but that gentleman wasn't accepting such tales. He centered his thoughts on Al Riley's filling station, across the street.

'Gasoline' he said, 'is coming from those tanks, across the street'. 'It seeped into the building, and that caused the explosion'. 'Dig up the tanks and you'll find a leak'.

Al Riley's gas tanks were dug up, but not without a protest from Al. All three tanks were lifted clear from the ground. There were no leaks.

Then somebody tried to get Al to pay for the digging, and he refused. He called in the Standard Oil Company, and in a conference someone remembered the Old Timer's remark that he knew the answer.

The Standard Oil experts visited our Old Timer. He took them into his backyard, and with a shovel dug a hole down to the water, not very deep. As the experts watched a film of oil formed over the water.

'See that' the Old Timer said 'I have an oil well in my back yard'.

It was Methane gas, he explained. 200 years previously the entire area had been a mill pond, for Deacon Thompson's saw mill and untold generations of leaves had fallen into the pond. These leaves were now being converted to gas - it was that gas which had caused the explosions - there was no danger to speak of, but it certainly could be alarming to a person.

The Standard Oil experts, we are sorry to report, did not want to buy an oil well, even though there was oil present. But neither Standard Oil nor Al Riley ever paid for digging up those tanks. We never found out who did, either.

Regan Park has been moved, mainly by the force of circumstances, but most people will agree for the better.

Minor League Mothers--The Champs

Minor League Mothers as they appeared after defeating the Major League Mothers Sunday afternoon at the Ray Little League Park. The score was 13-10. The game was marked by a tight pitching contest with Cappy Iovanna and Pat McNamara emerging on top.

The ladies alleged that the umpiring was not only unfair but prejudiced, and that the Major League Mothers had as many as 15 (men?) on the field at one time.

UNUSUAL WEEK FOR ST. DOROTHY'S SOFTBALL TEAM

Two forfeits and several protests gave the undefeated St. Dorothy's softball an unusual week, the most peculiar one of their short and meteoric career.

Their scheduled game with the St. Patrick's team was forfeited on July 2nd when the opposition called and reported that they would be unable to play because of lack of players.

A similar instance gave the local girls a default from St. Peters, later in the week, in what was to be a rescheduled game.

Monday, July 7th saw a game with the defending champions, St. Williams of Tewksbury, which was marked by protests as the local girls lost, 9 to 8.

St. Williams protested a hit player, in the fifth, when a runner was struck by the ball between 2nd and 3rd base. The umpire ruled an automatic out, but the St. Williams coach protested that the ball had been missed by a fielder and therefore the runner should not have been called out.

St. Dorothy's on the other hand protested that the distance between the pitcher's box and the plate was incorrect, being, as measured by the St. Dorothy's coach 34 feet 2 inches instead of 38 feet 6 inches.

Because St. Williams had the winning score their protest is understood to be valueless, while the St. Dorothy's protest is to be talked over later.

The game started tamely enough, with the Wilmington girls making two runs in the first inning on a walk and 3 hits. St. Dorothy's added another run in the 3rd on two hits and an error. St. Williams tied in the last of the 3rd as a result of 3 singles and a double.

In the 4th, St. Dorothy's forged ahead to an 8-3 lead, and held St. Williams scoreless. Wilmington went scoreless in the fifth, but St. Williams knocked in 4 runs, after the play in which a runner was called out after being hit by a batted ball.

Wilmington had no luck in the 7th, but St. Williams went ahead to lead 9-8. If, at a meeting of the director with other members of the league, it is decided that St. Dorothy's protest against the umpire's failure to call the infield fly rule in the 6th was valid, the game will be replayed. Otherwise the score stands St. Williams 9, St. Dorothy's 8.

LETTER READ AT SELECTMEN'S MEETING

Board of Selectmen, Wilmington, Mass. Gentlemen:

We recently purchased an industrial site of 3.67 acres located at the intersection of West Street and the new Route 28 in Wilmington.

This purchase was the culmination of a search which lasted several years. Your acting Town manager, Alfred Calabrese, has been most helpful; the aerial photographs and zoning information answered our questions quickly and accurately. No other town that we visited offered a comparable service.

We are enthusiastically looking forward to building in Wilmington.

Very truly yours

at Sea when the USS Jacob Jones was lost, in the North Sea, during World War I. The town erected a fine monument to his memory, at the corner of High Street and Middlesex Avenue. It was not imposing, and it wasn't intended to be. It was a simple brass plaque on a piece of native granite, carrying our tribute to one of our dead.

After remaining in one place for well over 30 years the State and Federal governments began to construct Interstate Highway 99. Included in the plans are a crossover and turn out for Route 62, and Regan Park stood right in the way.

But at the request of the Selectmen, the state has relocated the monument, at Salem St. and Middlesex Avenue, closer to Regan's home, and in a spot that now seems better than the former one. You can see the monument today - it isn't just something you speed past. It looks well, and does the town credit.

Those Maples

This paper, last week noted that maple trees planted by Oliver McGrane were being uprooted for the new approaches to the highway, in North Wilmington. Those trees had a tender spot in the hearts and lives of the North Wilmington people. Some years ago the County proposed to take a few of them down, to widen Middlesex Avenue, and a mass petition resulted, and the trees were saved.

But now they are gone. The Commonwealth filed a 'taking' some months ago, and it is now too late to do any squawking. No one just noticed the 'taking' at the time - everybody was too busy.

Incidentally we are told by Rodney Buck that the Commonwealth gave those trees to the town in the first place - so there is no possibility as we see it of claiming damages, which some people have been wanting to do.

And another incidently, while we are at it, Rodney informs us that they were planted in 1911, not 1921 as we believed. Rodney has us there. We aren't that old, that we can remember what happened in 1911.

Golf

The time of the year is such that Wilmington businessmen are beginning to count the days until August 6th - the day of the annual Rotary Club outing in Tyngsboro.

Postmaster Henry Porter has been reported sharpening up his golf clubs so that this year he will be able to carry his weight, in the annual game between Bill Stevens, Henry Porter, Johnny Cooke and Doc Foster, for the Club Championship.

Henry and Bill have had the championship now for several years, but it must be reported that it is Bill's 280 yard drives that have carried the ball.

Another match of interest is the one that Doc Chernoff is trying to revive, in which Bill Stevens and Corydon Coombs are to play against the Doc and Larz Neilson.

There was a match like that two years ago, and Neilson and Chernoff lost three bucks.

It isn't the principal of the thing - it's the three bucks, says Chernoff.

For the First Time since the Civil War it is possible to see the old Samuel Gowing House (1785) from a point one mile to the south, at the former southern bound of the old Gowing Farm. The picture was taken from the old stone wall, south of Park Street, which marked the southern bound of the Gowing Farm.

Now owned by Herb Barrows, and part of the North Wilmington Nurseries, it will probably be torn down to make room for the new highway.

MUNICIPAL MEANDERINGS

Today we introduce you to Patrick A Thibau, Sanitarian and Agent for the Board of Health. Pat is a graduate of Boston College and received his master's degree in public health at the University of Mass. He and his wife, Claire, live in Hathaway Acres and have 3 children--one son and two daughters. Pat's work is varied in its aspects and keeps him on a steady 'dog' trot. He checks drainage systems, tests milk samples, inspects stores and restaurants, issues various permits and indeed performs multitudinous chores. For all the detail of a type of work that requires a comprehensive knowledge of public health and sanitation, plus patience, tact and conscientiousness, Pat is well qualified. Add to this - a cheerful grin, amiable manner and innate courtesy and the answer is - Pat Thibau!

The old superstition that bad luck runs in 3's has been well substantiated in the Town Hall in the past few weeks. First victim was the Town Treasurer who was laid low with a serious infection, second on the list was the Town Collector, Miriam Ware who sprained her ankle; the third victim was Vera Mills, a clerk in the Town Hall who suffered a bad fall on the basement stairs. We hope this is the end of the jinx! Incidentally, it was Vera's turn to wash the coffee pot (used mornings for coffee break). Rather drastic measures to take in order to avoid washing the pot!

Mary Welling Thiel, popular High School teacher, has returned to the Board of public Welfare for her second summer as Social Worker. Nice to see her back in the Hall again!

George (Town Engineer) and Kay Maynard are expecting their third young 'un. After two robust sons, Dale and Dean they are hoping for a little Dora this time.

Officer Charles Ellsworth of the Police Department has discovered that it does not pay to act the Good Samaritan, observing a small dog jump from a passing car as he was doing traffic duty, he quickly placed the dog in his own car to wait for the return of the motorist. Apparently the owner of the dog failed to realize that the pooch was missing so Officer Ellsworth was stuck! Returning to his car, he found to his chagrin, that the pup he rescued, now firmly refused in no uncertain terms, to let Charlie enter his own vehicle!

Anybody know the reason (or her name) for the dazed look on Ray (Water Dept.) LeBlanc's face these days?

EXCERPTS FROM THE MUNICIPAL MAIL BAG
(This one comes out of the Town Collector's mail.)

"-----one of these checks is for my husband and the other one is for the dog. I really can't afford both but as yet I haven't been able to decide which one to get rid of!"

MRS DAWE NAMED DIRECTOR OF DAY CAMP FOR RETARDED CHILDREN

Mrs. Warren B Dawe of 112 Butters Row has been named Director of the summer day camp operated by the East Middlesex Association for Retarded Children Inc. The camp is located at the First Congregational Church in Wakefield and will be held for eight weeks. The children will attend three days a week from 9 to 12 noon.

Transportation will be provided for the children, who are covered by insurance, and are served mid-morning refreshments.

Wilmington parents of retarded children are invited to call Mrs Arthur Bureau of West St at OL 8-4900, or Mrs Dawe for further information on the program.

LORAIN KITCHENER JONES FLIES TO GERMANY

Mrs Jones of Spartanburg, South Carolina, the former Loraine Kitchener of Wilmington, left Logan Airport on July 9 for Germany, where her husband PFC James M Jones, is stationed with the U S Army. They plan on touring as much of the continent in their Mercedes as time will permit. The Worlds Fair in Brussels is definitely on their schedule.

Mrs Jones has been granted a two month leave of absence from the Spartanburg General Hospital, where she is employed as Head Technician.

The Sunday before she left, Mrs Jones was guest of honor at a Barbecue and Bon Voyage party given by friends at the home of her parents, Mr and Mrs Albert Kitchener of Alrich Road. Guests attended from South Weymouth, Wallaston, Arlington, Littleton, Reading, North Reading, and Wilmington.

TEXT OF THE DECREE AS ISSUED BY JUDGE FAIRHURST
The decree as issued by Judge John Fairhurst is as follows: This cause came to be heard upon the motion of the defendant, Stephen P.
Hathaway to revoke the temporary restraining order, and was argued by counsel, and upon inspection, by agreement of the parties, of the master's draft report and representations of counsel as to suggested changes therein, thereupon, upon consideration thereof, it is ordered, adjudged and decreed that said restraining order be and the same hereby is dissolved, without prejudice to a renewal of the application for a preliminary injunction with a showing of additional facts which warrant restraint.

Spinazola Land
A long letter from Attorney Tim Kane was read, concerning the Spinazola land, formerly known as the Moran property, in South Wilmington. It concerned especially a 37 acre plot of land adjacent to the Woburn line. Kane stated that efforts were being made to 'landcourt' the property, which has a tangled history dating back to the Woburn City Land Company of 1893.
The letter received sympathetic attention, but TM Cala-brese refuted some of the statements, saying that a good deal of the land was now owned by the Town of Wilmington, and that only about seven lots, of 2450 square feet each were in the hands of private owners.

Youth Canteen
Donald Kidder reported that the Wilmington Youth Canteen had run into a little snag again, in their Youth Center in North Wilmington (the old North School). They had finished the place once, and then discovered that they had to cut a rear door through the walls to comply with the fire laws. Now they had learned that the front door must open outwards, in order to satisfy insurance requirements.
The Selectmen decided that in as much as the old school was being used for a number of activities for youth it would be feasible to have this done.
Kidder also suggested that thoughts be given to having a Tornado Warning signal, on the town fire alarm system, a suggestion that was well received

NEW REAL ESTATE FIRM

CONSTRUCTOR
Miss Sarah Scenna, who has recently opened the Registry Realty Exchange Co, at 110 Main Street, is a lady who has lived a most extraordinary life (for a lady).

She has run her own construction firm, and built over 300 houses. She constructed a 12 hole golf course, in Fitchburg, and superintended the construction of 37 nearby homes at the same time.
She was not just a 'lady boss' but a person who knew what she was doing, and was able to show practically every man in her employ the fine tricks of their trade, if need be.
Her feminine instincts for strictly masculine activities has often drawn the attentions of newspapers, in places where she was working. The Boston Post, for instance, on April 1, 1951 (and it wasn't an April Fool story) ran half a page about this remarkable lady, showing her laying out homes, helping out with a crowbar, and, of course, posing with the skillet in her home.
As a girl Miss Scenna spent many hours swimming in Silver Lake - it was there she learned to swim. Her family, then living in East Boston, had a family summer home near the lake for several years, and used to come out to Wilmington on the old street car line.

WILMINGTON LITTLE LEAGUE

Despite the interference of torrential rains on Tuesday and gathering darkness on Thursday, Little League activity was none the less exciting last week. Only the Chisholm Indians managed to play both of their scheduled games, winning Monday behind the three-hit shutout pitching of Pete Emery, 8-9, over the Cain Red Sox and dropping a seven-inning heartbreaker to the defending champion Unit Packet Tigers by a 3-2 count on Wednesday. The Wednesday game featured the most exciting baseball played this year. In the third inning, Johnny Robbins beat out a perfect squeeze bunt with the bases jammed to score the Tigers' first run. Jeff Williamson, Tiger pitcher, hit his second home run of the year in the fifth inning for what seemed to be an insurance run. However the Indians came roaring back in the sixth when Tom Grant smashed his fifth home run of the year with a man on base to knot the score at 2-all and send the game into extra innings. It was here that the Tiger 'little guys' took over. Singles by Johnny Robbins and Jimmy Collins, followed by a free pass to Billy Cawthron set the stage for Billy Ritchie's run-scoring, game-winning single to right field. Tuesday's game was called with the Wilmington Ford Yankees trailing the Tigers, 5-1, in the fourth inning and darkness halted Thursday's game after six innings with the Red Sox and Yankees tied, 4-4.

In minor league action, the Tunney Redlegs spotted the Rotary Braves five runs in the first inning, then fought back for a 7-6 victory behind Ken Paglia. The MacNamara Cardinals topped the Stevens Dodgers 10-3 to keep within striking distance of first place. Friday night's contest between the Joe Apps Giants and the Coombs Cubs was postponed because of rain.

Some mention must be given to the generous efforts of Joe Paglia as Chief Umpire in the Wilmington Little League for the current season. During a recent period of nine calendar days, Joe umpired two minor league games, three major league games, one Pony League game and the Mothers Game of last Sunday. His efforts are appreciated by the men who have worked closely with Little League during recent years because they know how important it is to be able to depend on men to show up week after week for the thankless job of umpiring. Unfortunately there are always people who feel it is their right to heap abuse upon umpires wherever and whenever they find them, and some of these people have showed up at Little League games this year to practice this 'right' upon Joe and his staff. Little League's position on the subject is this:

No man has the right to criticize the unpaid efforts of another man unless his own services have been offered and refused. Let's be 'big-league' about Little League'.

PARK STREET ACRES KIDDOS ENTERTAINED BY ROCK AND ROLL AND GAMES GALORE

Two youngsters who turned out to be real Rock and Roll cats would have been, in themselves enough entertainment, but they were only a small part of a party which the Park Street Acres Association gave for the youngsters of the neighborhood last Saturday.

Larry MacDonald of Gowing Road, and a friend who was visiting, Alan McPherson gave a real cool version of the latest thing in music. They enthralled the entire neighborhood, gathered at the 'turn' on Gowing Road.

Contests, from 1:30 pm to 4pm kept the very young set on the go. There were doll contests, tugs of war, coke and cookie contests, all sorts of dashes, from 10 yards to one hundred yards, and two watermelon eating contests, one for 6 to 9 year old kiddoes, and the other for kiddoes of 10 to 80.

JAMES CREELMAN IS AT COLBY COLLEGE SUMMER SCHOOL

James Ashmore Creelman, son of Mr and Mrs G B Creelman, 571 Woburn St., is studying German at the Colby College Summer School of Languages in Waterville, Me. He is a student at the Cambridge School.

The Language School, founded in 1948, provides instruction in French, German, Russian and Spanish. The school insists on the exclusive use of foreign languages outside of the classroom 'in so far as circumstances and previous training permit.'

All courses are intensive, covering in seven weeks (June 24-August 11) one full year of college work.

JOSEPH COTTON

Funeral services for the late Joseph Cotton were held in the Nichols Funeral Home, on Middlesex Avenue, Tuesday, at 2pm. The Reverend Stanley Cummings, of the Congregational Church conducted the services, coming home from his vacation in Western Massachusetts to do so.

Born in England 94 years ago Mr. Cotton was a very successful real estate operator in Wilmington until the time of his retirement nearly 30 years ago.

He is survived by three sons, Joseph, John, and George, all of Barnstead, N.H., and two daughters, Mrs Clarence Ridgeway of Indiana, and Mrs. Geraldine Reagan of 5 Fairview Avenue, with whom he lived.

There are 10 grand children and 11 great grandchildren.

Also surviving is one sister, Mrs. Emily Saunders of Vermont. Death, to Mr. Cotton, came very suddenly. He had gone across the street to visit neighbors, and died while sitting in a chair on the porch.

Burial was in the family lot in the Wildwood Cemetery.
